

The Joint Commission

Vero proudly received their Joint Commission certification on 10/13/2018. Evaluations are also performed yearly by Joint Commission to ensure the quality measure are maintained.

Vero RN supports the Joint Commission's mission for upholding quality patient care and recommends that if any employee has a concern about patient care and safety then he or she should contact Vero RN management and upper management. If the concerns cannot be resolved through the staffing firm, the staffing firm, the individual is encouraged to contact The Joint Commission.

More information on The Joint Commission can be found on their website at www.jointcommission.org

An independent, not-for-profit organization, The Joint Commission accredits and certifies nearly 21,000 health care organizations and programs in the United States. Joint Commission accreditation and certification is recognized nationwide as a symbol of quality that reflects an organization's commitment to meeting certain performance standards.

The Joint Commission's Health Care Staffing Services \(HCSS\) Certification program provides an independent, comprehensive evaluation of a staffing firm's ability to provide qualified and competent staffing services.

Health care staffing firms are eligible for Joint Commission certification if they:

- Place temporary clinical staff in other organizations that direct or provide direct patient care
- Place temporary clinical staff under the direct supervision of another organization's personnel
- Collect and present four months of data for each of the three standardized performance measures by the time of the initial on-site review (see performance measurement section below)
- Place at least 10 individual clinical employees on assignments by the time of the on-site review

Benefits of certification

Health care staffing firms seek certification because it:

- Demonstrates commitment to a higher standard of service
- Provides a framework for organizational structure and management
- Provides a competitive edge in the marketplace
- Enhances staff recruitment and development
- Is recognized by insurers and other third parties
- May reduce liability insurance costs

Certification process

HCSS firms undergo an announced initial review. Re-certification reviews are unannounced and are conducted on-site every other year. The review focuses on a firm's ability to provide competent staffing services and evaluates performance, continuing education and training, placement criteria, and other areas.

The standards, contained in the Health Care Staffing Services Certification Manual, are divided into four sections:

- Leadership
- Human resources management
- Performance measurement and improvement
- Information management

Performance measurement

Joint Commission-certified health care staffing firms and firms seeking initial certification are required to adopt a set of three standardized performance measures.

These include:

- Do not return rate for clinical reasons
- Do not return rate for professional reasons
- Completeness of personnel file

Certified health care staffing firms collect monthly data for each measure in the set. The data is then submitted quarterly to The Joint Commission. Information about performance measures is provided in the Health Care Staffing Services Performance Measurement Implementation Guide, 2nd Edition.
